27. Fireside BMX Chat w/ Greg Mathias - Harry Leary did have his demons

27. While Harry Leary can be thought of doing many wonderful things, he did have his demons. Friends and family did not test Harry for CTE, they just didn't think about it at the time. He crashed many times and "stuck his head into the ground a few times pretty hard" - some of his helmets were nearly split in half. Harry also had a lot of concussions as a kid, when he would ride without a helmet.

Hi Linda,

Yes let's chat I want

To make sure I have everything that I need to get to you. I'm thinking September.

As far as the paver it is on a walkway that runs right next to the channel. Have you ever been to lake Havasu?

So you have the infamous London Bridge that we can walk under. The channel is where we paddle board and lots of boating. So you will see boaters and paddle boarders on the channel. And of Course half naked women. 😊 there is also an English style shopping village there. Harry's paver is right next to a commercial boat that takes people across The lake to the casino to gamble. It really is an amazing place to live.

Oh and under the bridge is a cement stage. So no bikes are allowed on it. Of course my brother road down there all the time and he would do tricks jumping on and off the stage. Well he got caught by the police and he made a run for it. Trying to ditch them. Well unfortunately the caught him and of course Harry did not go down very easy. It took 3 guys to take him down. So he ended up in jail....

Hi Linda,

I have spent a good amount of time in Az but never had the pleasure of visiting Lake Havasu. I remember my Aunt and Uncle going there for a jet ski competition and thinking it was the most magical place on earth.

Cool on the paver description, that gives me a lot to start with 😊 and good heads up on the boaters and paddle boarders - those should be easy sounds to integrate and the london bridge being on the path just makes it that much better. I don't know how we do audio of half-naked women, other than Wooooooo?

OMG on that story! How long ago was that? If you had to guess how many times he was arrested, how many times do you think it was?

I want to play around with the script a bit now that I have a better understanding and get back with you after I make a couple of modifications based on this feedback. If you want to chat about it this evening, please let me know. If you want to wait until I redo the script, that is cool too.

Regardless, thanks for getting back with me so quickly and being open to the concept!

Best regards,

Kyle
